

Calling all residents of the Central Kootenay!

We know that when you bring intelligent, caring and passionate people to a table, great things will happen. This is the aim of the Central Kootenay Food Policy Council, which will consider the communities and food systems of our region and work to improve them.

We are inviting applications from residents of the Central Kootenay to sit on our inaugural Food Policy Council.

With broad representation at the table, we will explore issues related to hunger, food waste, land and water, distribution and production. The Council will help to identify and create solutions to issues that may not be possible for one organization to tackle on its own but will benefit from a group effort, with the right mix of knowledge, resources and people.

To join the inaugural Central Kootenay Food Policy Council, apply before October 17th, 2016. For more information, the Council Terms of Reference, and the Application Form can be found on our website: ckfoodpolicy.ca
