Hi Gerald.

Here is the reviewed minutes. Not much change since you last saw them. I added in a couple of position titles that were missing and that's about it.

Let me know if you approve.

Hi Lindsay,

I saw very little that needed changing. Thanks for keeping the record clear.

Here's the revised draft, with tracking changes.

Hi Shirleen,

I'll include your email in the correspondence for our upcoming Commission meeting. Another sign for the campground positioned at the entrance to town should be doable.

I love your idea of an illustrated Slow sign. We just need someone to make us a drawing. Humor is a great way of getting people's attention, and getting the point across. Plus, it would be unique. I'd suggest a pair of seniors with walking sticks rather than walkers.

Hi Gerald,

I have some amusing thoughts for a town sign [Welcome to Riondel - the Town that Time, the Law and Cellular Networks forgot] but was also thinking we really need better signage of where to turn for the campground. A lot of vehicles looking for the campground end up at the end of Campbell Ave, trying to turn their RVs around and asking for directions. Maybe their GPSs tell them they can get there from here?

The other signs that might be good and also might draw attention to signs in general could be a series of "Slow" signs showing silhouettes of: children playing, a senior with a walker, a cat on the road, a bear, a flock of turkeys, a deer, and Laurel's dog sleeping on the road. It would be a little humorous but might work to slow the traffic and be kind of welcoming, tourism-ish, even.

Shirleen
